Returning to Romania

This document provides information and details of organisations which may be useful if you are facing removal or deportation to Romania.

While every care is taken to ensure that the information is correct this does not constitute a guarantee that the organisations will provide the services listed.

Travel documents

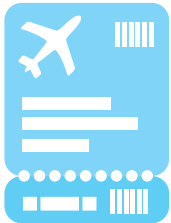

A valid Romanian passport or identity card can be used to travel from the UK to Romania.

If you do not have a valid passport or identity card the following documents may help to get a document which will allow you to return to Romania:

- Expired passport or id card or copies of those documents
- Original birth certificate
- Other documents indicating Romanian nationality, e.g. marriage certificate, parents' birth certificates or passports

Return

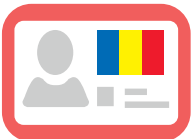

If you are willing to return and want to ensure that you are returned to Romania as soon as possible you can:

- Contact your caseworker at the Home Office to say that you are willing to return;
- Make every effort to find supporting documentation for issuing of travel documents;
- Make contact with the Romanian Embassy to begin the process of obtaining a travel document.

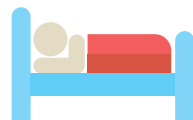

You may find it useful to read the information below to begin preparing for your return.

Documentation in Romania

It is compulsory for every Romanian citizen, aged 14 or over and living in Romania, to have a national identity card (Carte de identitate).

Accommodation

Romania has an emerging homelessness sector providing services and accommodation to those who are homeless or in insecure accommodation. There is a large state run hostel in Bucharest and some services run by voluntary organizations which are listed in the directory below.

Health

The state health service funds most services including access to GPs and specialists, dental care, hospitalisation and emergency treatment, pregnancy, childbirth and rehabilitation services. The service is funded by contributions paid automatically from the wages of the employed and payments from the self-employed. The unemployed, people on maternity leave or on long-term sickness benefits do not have to pay contributions to access services. Those who are deemed not to be insured can only access limited services including emergency services and treatment for communicable diseases.

Emergency support

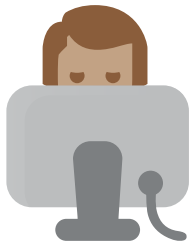

Those who have worked in the UK and who would be eligible if in the UK for a contributions based benefit through payment of sufficient national insurance contributions may be able to access that benefit in Portugal. To find out more you can contact the Exportability Team

Employment, education and training

Jobseekers should register at a local office of the National Employment Agency, which is Romania's public employment office. Offices provide information and services to jobseekers and run vocational training programmes in addition to maintaining a database of available jobs on their website: www.anofm.ro

Below is a list of contacts at regional employment offices for the European Employment Services (EURES) which assists people moving between EEA countries to find work:

Alternatively you can register with private employment agencies or search their websites for opportunities. You may also be able to upload your CV for potential employers to see.

Many national, regional and local newspapers also advertise job vacancies.

In some cases it is better to contact an employer directly, for example if you are applying for seasonal jobs in rural areas.
